

STOCK SCREEENER

An invaluable source that is often overlooked when looking for quality company's is the stock screener which is available free from CNBC.com and Zacs.com

This allows the trader and investor to locate and analyse company's that fulfil a readers defined stipulated criteria as set by the individual.

Once the criteria has been set, a search can be made through a stock screen. This will provide a list of the shares that would meet the stipulated criteria

This allows the trader and investor to concentrate on company's that fulfil the selected fields as defined by themselves.

Two of the best known stock selectors for the US markets are shown below
