

Master Investor Magazine - June 2020 Issue

IN THIS MONTH'S MASTER INVESTOR MAGAZINE

FEATURE

Big tech, post-pandemic: the virus killers – Click here to view

Victor Hill takes a look at how 'big tech' will be omnipresent, post-pandemic, in the fight to contain and suppress Covid-19 and future pathogens.

FROM ACORNS TO OAK TREES – Click Here to view

Small-cap dividend stalwarts

Richard Gill, CFA, looks at three small-cap dividend stalwarts that are still paying and even increasing their distributions to shareholders in these uncertain times.

THE MACRO INVESTOR

Passive strategies for lockdown and recovery - Click Here to view

Filipe R. Costa explores the potential for a recovery in airline stocks, while protecting against the possibility of future lockdowns.

GOLD MINERS

Global 'goodies' set to ride the gold price higher - Click Here to view

John Cornford reviews nine of the more established gold-mining companies that investors might view as less risky in the current environment.

CHART NAVIGATOR

Three charts to watch in the month ahead - Click Here to view

Recent volatility has drawn more new investors to the market. Michael Taylor explains why, and reviews some stocks to watch.

FUNDS AND TRUSTS IN FOCUS

The best gold and gold-mining funds - Click Here to view

Nick Sudbury uncovers the best funds and trusts to take advantage of stronger gold prices.

SPREADBETTING

Is the pound the bargain market of 2020? - Click Here to view

With the pound at multi-decade lows against the dollar, David Jones considers whether now is the time to prepare for a recovery in this much-maligned currency.

STOCKS IN FOCUS

Physiomics - Click Here to view

Derren Nathan of Hybridan explains why Physiomics continues to attract funding to progress its evolving personalised medicine tools.

BOOK REVIEW

Leadership by Algorithm - Click Here to view

Richard Gill, CFA, reviews Leadership by Algorithm, a book where author David De Cremer sets out to answer some of the questions arising from the advancement of AI.

THE FINAL WORD

Life imitates art in the world of Covid-19 - Click Here to View

Viruses are an inevitable part of life on this planet. We can only hope that the next time a pandemic hits, lessons will have been learnt from the catalogue of errors inflicted on us all during 2020, writes Tim Price.